Dan has had a bad morning. He has written this email to a friend.

Reading comprehension

Hi Jack,
Are you OK? I've had a terrible morning!
This morning I had to babysit my little brother, Timmy, because mum was at work. I wasn't very happy about this because I wanted to play football with my friends.
Anyway, we started playing football in the garden but Timmy was thirsty, so we went into the kitchen to get a drink. Timmy took a bottle of fruit juice out of the fridge, but just at that moment, the dog ran into the kitchen and hit him. He fell down on the floor and dropped the bottle. The bottle broke and Timmy cut his hand. He started to cry because his hand hurt. There was fruit juice everywhere on Timmy, on the dog and all over the kitchen!
I didn't know what to do, so I phoned mum.
Everything's OK now. I've put a plaster on Timmy's cut and I've changed his clothes and cleaned the kitchen, but I haven't washed the dog.
When mum comes home, I'm going out. Are you free this afternoon?
